Open Access Publishing Workflow

All articles submitted to Cambridge University Press undergo the same rigorous peer-review to sustain the high quality of our journals.

The decision to publish an article is not affected by whether it will be published Open or behind a paywall.

The screenshot shows the Cambridge Core website for the Journal of Child Language. The top navigation bar includes 'English Language Learning', 'Education', 'Bibles', 'Digital Products', 'About Us', and 'Careers'. The main header features the 'Cambridge Core' logo, a search bar, and links for 'Browse subjects', 'What we publish', 'Services', and 'About Cambridge Core'. Below this, there are links for 'Institution login', 'Register', 'Log in', and 'Cart (0)'. The journal title 'Journal of Child Language' is prominently displayed in a dark blue banner with a search bar and social media icons. A secondary navigation bar includes 'Journal home', 'Child Bilinguals', 'FirstView articles', 'Latest issue', 'All issues', 'Open access articles', 'Most cited', and 'Most read'. The main content area features a 'Get access' button, a 'Contains open access' icon, and a 'Now accepting proposals for Registered Reports' banner. Below this is a 'This journal accepts Open Access submissions' banner. The 'Recently published articles' section lists two articles: 'Variation awaiting bias: Substantively biased learning of vowel harmony variation' and 'Cross-linguistic influence in simultaneous and early sequential bilingual children: a meta-analysis'.

Journal homepages

- Information on manuscript preparation is available on the journal's homepage on Cambridge Core.
- Open Access information is signposted on these pages.

Pop ups appear on relevant gold OA and hybrid journal pages to invite authors to check their eligibility for an APC waiver / discount using our checker tool.

The pop-up is titled 'Open Access Funding Support' and includes a close button (X) in the top right corner. The text reads: 'Check your eligibility for an APC discount or waiver in this journal, including support offered by your institution.' At the bottom, there are two buttons: 'Find out more' and 'Ignore'.

Acceptance

If an article is accepted, following the completion of any revisions required, authors will receive an acceptance email.

RE: <<JOURNAL NAME>> - Decision on <<MANUSCRIPT NAME>>

Dear <<AUTHOR NAME>>,

We're delighted to confirm that your manuscript entitled "ARTICLE NAME" has been accepted for publication in <<JOURNAL NAME>> in its current form.

If you have not yet done so, please complete and return the Author Publishing Agreement (APA) as soon as possible: <<LINK>>.

As <<JOURNAL>> also offers Open Access (OA), you can now decide whether you would like to publish your article as OA. Publishing OA allows anyone, anywhere to find, read, and benefit from your research which will give you increased visibility, greater accessibility, and global impact. To help you decide, you can find out more about publishing OA on our information page. If you choose to publish OA, please ensure you select the appropriate form when completing the APA.

Publishing Open Access requires payment of an article processing charge \(APC\), collected by our partner, CCC-Rightslink. However, to support OA publishing, we also offer a variety of waivers and discounts which means you may not have to pay an APC. To check your eligibility, please visit our waivers and discounts information page.

To find out more information about what will happen next, things you need to know, and a variety of resources to help you during the process, please visit our publishing an accepted paper information page.

You'll now be assigned a dedicated Content Manager, who you will hear from shortly.

Congratulations and thank you once again for your contribution to <<JOURNAL NAME>>.

Kind regards,
Editorial office

Author publishing agreement

Before Cambridge University Press can publish a journal article (or any other journal content type) we need a signed licence to publish. To find the right form, start by considering whether or not your article will be published as open access or non-open access and then select the most appropriate option.

Open Access Articles

So that we have the necessary rights to publish your article, we ask you to grant a non-exclusive licence to publish. (We do not ask you to transfer your copyright to us.) A non-exclusive licence means that the rights needed to publish the paper are granted to the journal owner on a non-exclusive basis and the ownership of the copyright remains unchanged. Select the correct form from the choice of two in the table below.

In open access there is a fundamental principle that content should not only be accessible but also be freely reusable for the good of research and humanity. We comply with this principle by asking you to select, within your form, a Creative Commons licence. The CC licence you choose will determine how readers can use your article.

Who are you and who owns the copyright?	Correct Forms	Who Signs?
I am the sole author and I own the copyright in the article OR I am one of two or more authors and we jointly own the copyright in the article		One author
I am the sole author and my employer (government or non-government) owns the copyright in the article OR I am one of two or more authors and one or more of our employers (government or non-government) jointly own the copyright in the article		Each author and each employer

Information Request from Cambridge University Press

Please complete this information request form. We will use the information you provide to prepare a publishing agreement for review and signature.

Fields marked with an asterisk (*) are required.

Access Information

Confirm Open Access (OA) publication

Your article is eligible for publication on an OA basis at no cost to you thanks to an agreement between Cambridge University Press and your institution. Your article will therefore be published OA, unless you choose to decline OA publication below.

- Open Access (freely available online)
 Decline Open Access (only available behind a subscription paywall)

Creative Commons Licence

Please confirm the Creative Commons licence under which the article should be published for Gold Open Access. Please note that your funder or institution may require you to select a particular licence, e.g. CC-BY. To find out more, please visit: www.cambridge.org/creative-commons

Article Processing Charge

Confirm the type of entity that will fund Open Access (OA) publication

OA publication usually incurs an article processing charge (APC). In this case, your article is eligible for funding by your institution. This means you can publish OA at no cost to you. If you have access to alternative funding, please select the relevant entity below.

Convert your article to Open Access

Dear Author Name,

This message is regarding your article, 'Article Name', in Journal Name. Through your affiliation with Institution Name and its publishing agreement with Cambridge University Press, you are eligible to make your article Open Access (OA) at no cost to you.

So that you don't miss out, we've made it easy for you to take advantage of this opportunity:

Simply select a creative commons licence by completing this online form.

As the corresponding author, you must have full authority to execute this form on behalf of any co-authors. If you do not complete this form, we will not take any action to convert your article to OA.

If you have any questions, please read our FAQs or email OAqueries@cambridge.org.

Why publish Open Access?

Publishing OA allows anyone, anywhere to find, read, and benefit from your research. OA articles:

- are downloaded three times more than non-OA articles, on average
- receive 30-50% more citations
- are freely available online globally

You can find out more on our Publishing OA information page.

Kind regards

Retroactive OA

Authors who do not select the OA option and are identified as eligible under an agreement are informed of the opportunity via a monthly outreach campaign.

A simple online form allows authors to select their creative commons licence. This form functions as an addendum to any existing agreement.

If a contract has been processed on Ironclad, authors will amend their original agreement.

Request funding

Affiliated authors of eligible articles must request funding within the Rightslink process.

Rightslink® match the article with a publishing agreement and offer wording.

*Articles can be automatically approved, or institutions can approve or deny funding.
